Built in 1980, the Church Street Marketplace is an amalgamation of around 86 retailers managed by the Church Street Marketplace Commission. The “mall” is actually a bi-level grouping of street-side shops and subterranean stores, all accessible by open-air, cobblestone walkways. Featuring many dining options, street performances, and holiday festivities, the top side of the marketplace always has something going on.

No matter what, downtown Burlington has something of interest to all.
